Megan Blake

Introducing Megan Blake, whose love for animals wins her a special place in our heart, and of course, animals' hearts as well!

THE STAR SCOOP:

Tell us about what you're working on.

MEGAN BLAKE:

A science fiction film called Eyeborgs. It's sort of like a terminator meets 1984. The eyeborg surveillance equipment began staging murders with the intent of taking over the presidency and then taking over the world. So it's a really, really cool concept. I play an investigative journalist who is realizing that things are not adding up, so I'm set out to find the truth and save the world. It's really, really fun. I have a stunt double for some cool things that are going to happen. I also host a television show about people and their pets.

THE STAR SCOOP:

How did you get involved with the show about pets?

BLAKE:

I've had animals my entire life. As a child I was always connected...I just was born that way...I love animals and I rescued all of my pets, including my two horses. I met the people from Pineridge television and they've won multiple Emmys. They do a lot of real interesting shows on the Discovery and Travel channel, and they always wanted to do an animal show. They just thought I would be really, really perfect for that kind of show, and they all love animals, too. So, when they finally got the show set up, they asked me to host it. I'm really excited to be doing that. It's just very good information that everybody who has a pet or is considering a pet can benefit from.
